

Katie Ball is the Prevention Specialist Lead at McLaren Prevention Services and the Coordinator for the Bay County Prevention Network. She is responsible for assessing, planning, and implementing a wide array of programs and strategies in the arena of substance misuse prevention throughout Bay County.

Katie served nine years in the Army Reserves and three years as an SUD Counselor prior to becoming a Prevention Specialist. She holds an associate degree in criminal justice from Delta College, a bachelor's in psychology from American Military University, and is a Certified Prevention Specialist. In her free time, she likes to spend time with her husband and five children. Katie's favorite hobby is roller derby.